"Is this plaid odd or even?" asks Deborah Marcus.

"From East to West . . . mighty Eagles are the best!"

look over there

Marvin Watkins and Steve Grinnell take pride in raising our school's flag.

Color My World

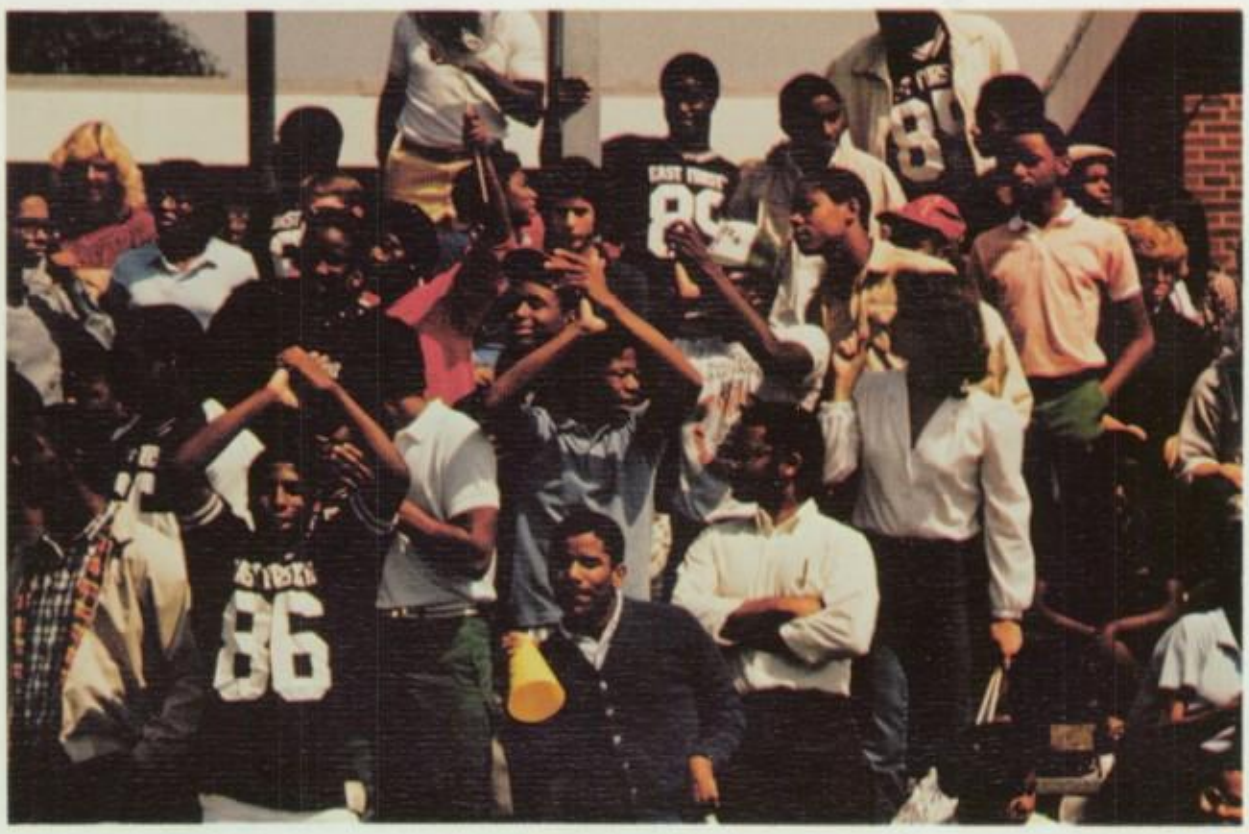
Academics and social events color the world of East Forsyth's students. From pride in the American flag to pep rallies full of variety and spirit, East proclaims the spectrum of togetherness.

Follow the Golden Arches



"Let's go, big Blue Machine . . . !"

Denise Marcus lends a helping hand in making sewing machine covers.

Times of Our Lives

Tests, book reports, term papers, vocabulary words, and practical skills are well-known facts of life for East Forsyth's students. Routine varies from pencil pushing to movies of simple enjoyment.

Clay Vanhoy takes the competency test.

Sharon Manning, Constance Perry, Joya Andrews, and Sanya Parson socialize between classes.

"Oh my, there goes the tardy bell!", says Cliff Holloway.

Follow the Rainbow to the Golden Arches

"May I take your order, please?" These words echo off the walls of McDonalds and Hardee's. The thought of eating hamburgers and fries is enough to make any student rush to the nearest fast-food restaurant for lunch. It is a hassle to find a parking space and get into class before the bell rings, but it is worth it.

Alicia Rice, Ronnie Culler, Kim Krawiec, and Gina Hooven enjoy a snack in the courtyard.

Ronnie Culler finds his surprise at the Golden Arches.

Jana Williamson and Juone Brown gossip over lunch.

Workers Reach for the End of the Rainbow

The town of Kernersville holds many opportunities for students who want to work. From grocery stores to banks, the town offers it all. The idea of having extra money for the weekends is enough to give anyone that little push that is needed to leave friends, fun, and home to go to work.

Jenny Frye is making things cleaner for Jeff, Patti, and Kent.

With Renee Flynn's help, money makes the world go 'round.

To James Wall, bagging groceries is a daily habit.

Rainbows on Wheels

Old and new, sporty and classic. All types of cars are seen in East's parking lot. Fashions and trends prevail even in our autos. The gas guzzlers slowly creep in the parking lot and rushingly roar out. Bump-ups occur and dents are inflicted, but even that doesn't lessen the flow of cars on the well-trod path to school.

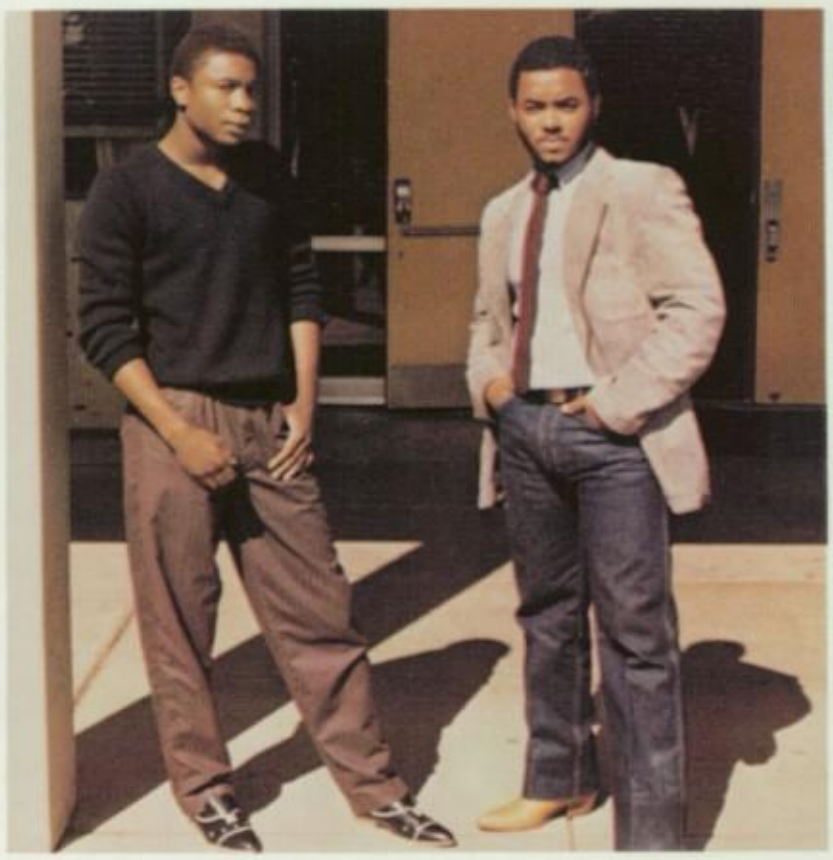
Let the good times roll

Fly, birdie fly . . . !

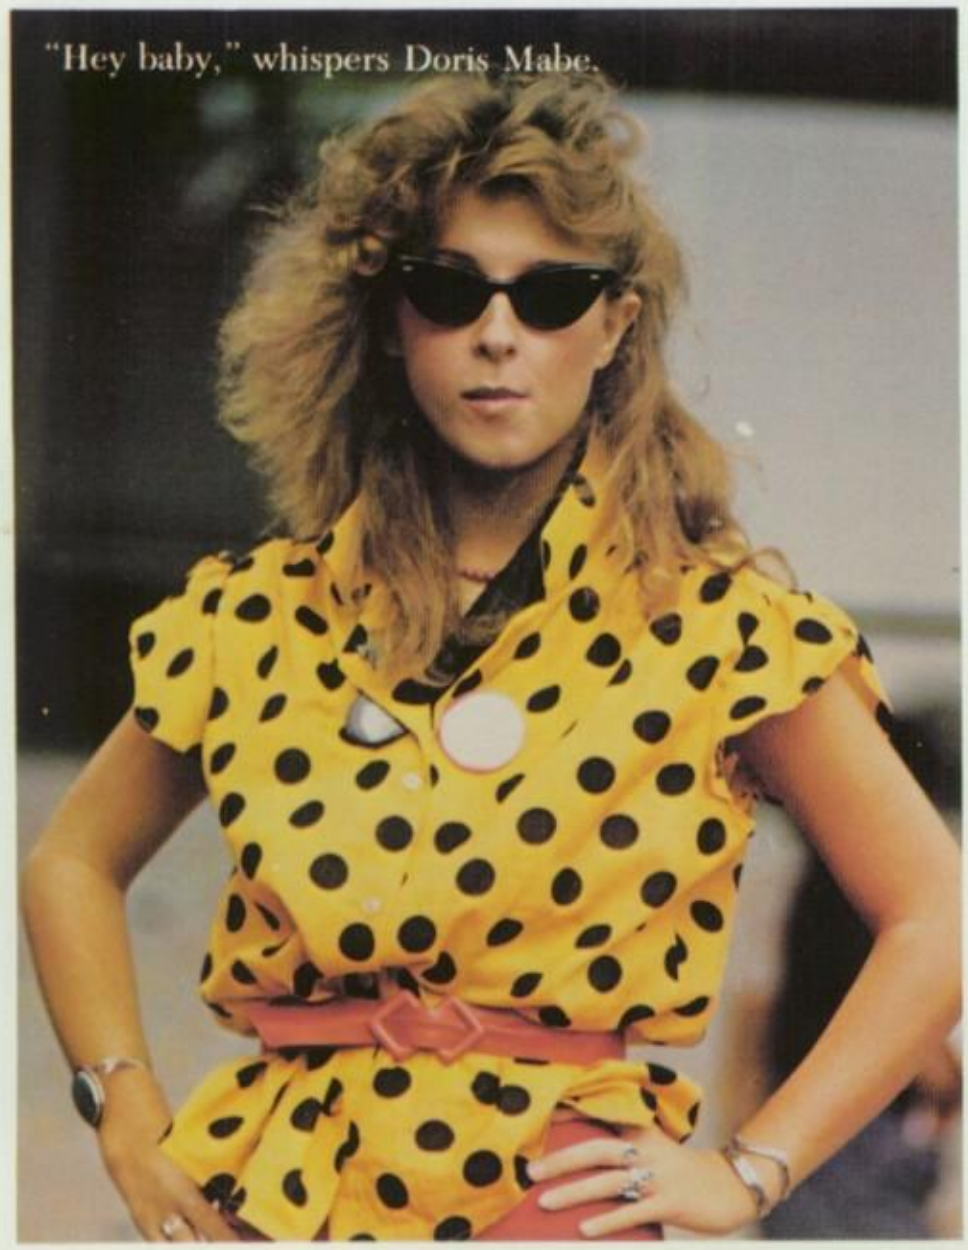
"I'm a lean, mean, green machine!"

A yellow gem with diamonds for eyes

Beth Smith says diamonds go with everything, even western boots.

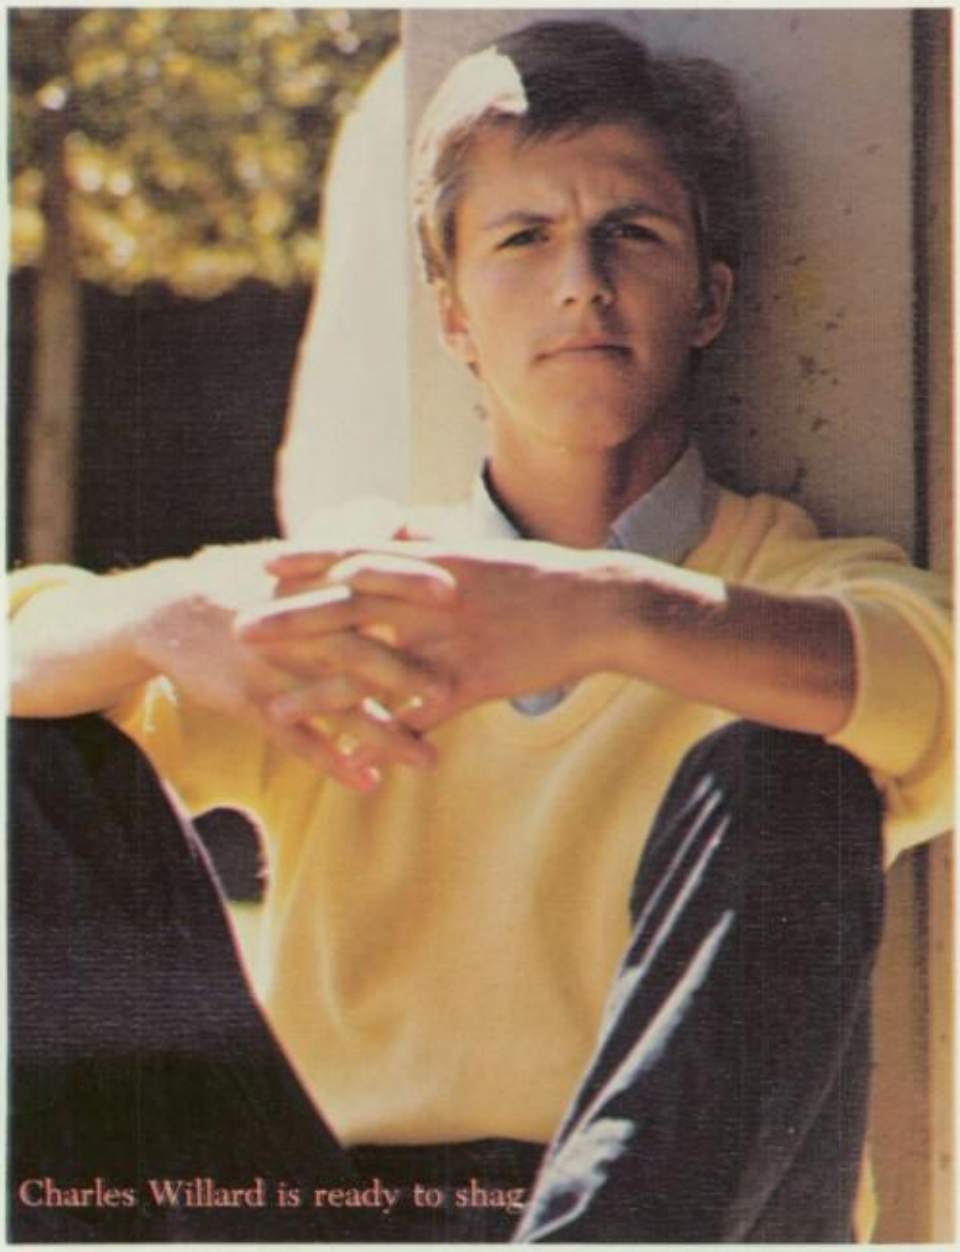


Ellis Townsend and Bobby Wynn pose in G.Q. styles.



"Hey baby," whispers Doris Mabe.

Which way to the beach, Ronnie and Gary?



Charles Willard is ready to shag.

Rainbows are Always in Style

Styles... punky, preppy, western, and expensive-East holds everything from New York fashions to Country Westerns. Punk gives us bright flashing lights and Devo. Preppy brings to us parties on the beach and the Beach Boys. Western gives us the toe-stomping two-steps and Alabama. Expensive gives us worries and class. The looks are created not only with clothes but with everything from headbands to cowboy boots. Alligators mingle with rhinestones, and punk glasses adapt to sweat shirts. The look is exciting, precise, and real, but most of all it is fashionable.

Kim Bryant is ready for an interview.

Show us your LABELS.

Administration Leads the Way

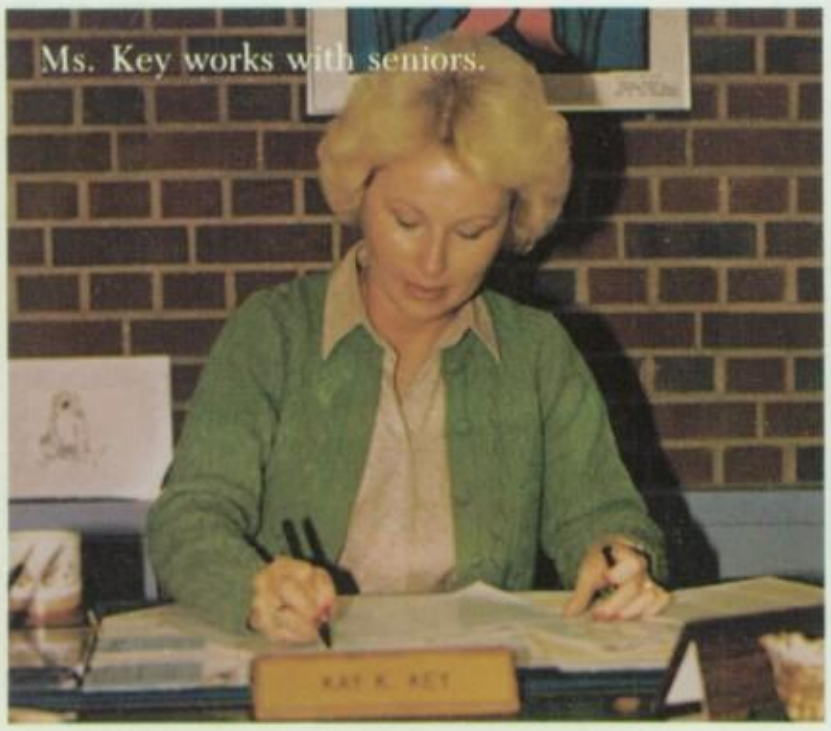
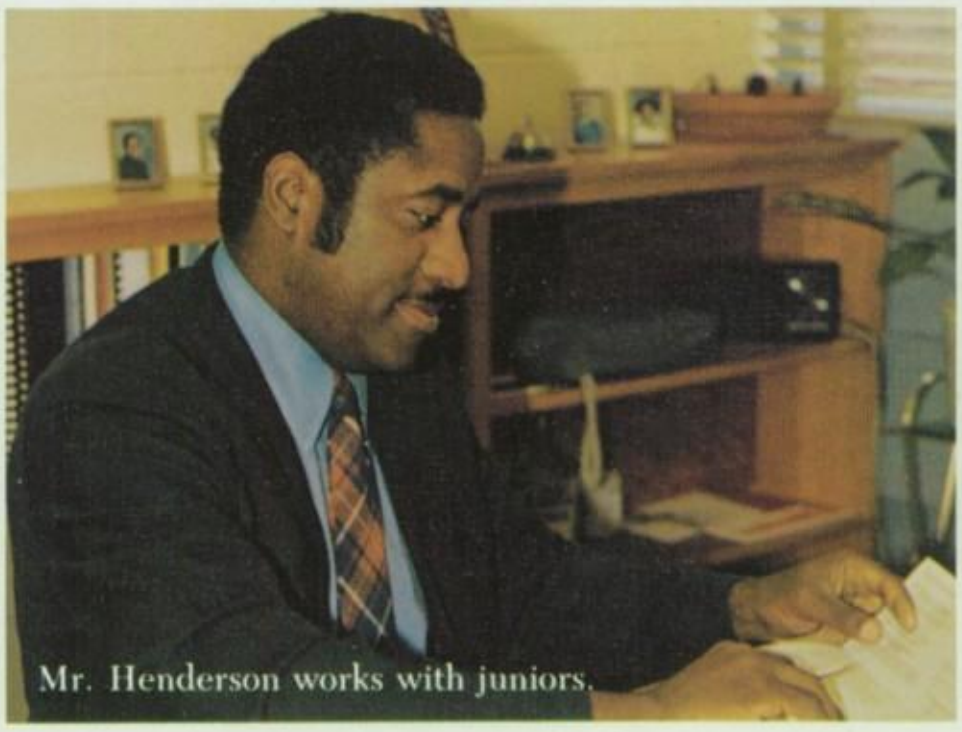
East Eagles are proud to be represented by their three principals: Mr. James Wilhelm, Ms. Kay Key, and Mr. Ben Henderson. They do not limit their schoolwork to their offices, but can be found working with and for each person on campus. They work long and hard to make East a place for learning and enjoyment both for students and staff. Their dedication and caring mean progress for our school. For the students it means that their dreams will one day become their reality.

Mr. Wilhelm socializes with Jennifer, Rina, Christi, Alicia, and Jan.



Ms. Key works with seniors.



Mr. Henderson works with juniors.

"SOMEWHERE OVER THE RAINBOW"

Somewhere over the rainbow lie the dreams of tomorrow and the memories of yesterday. What a wonderful year this has been for all of us. We can look back on this year with pride. We have worked hard and accomplished much.

Serving as co-editor of the annual has been an enjoyable and learning experience for me. My sincere thanks to a terrific principal and staff;
an understanding advisor, Mrs. Agnes Frye;
and cooperative co-editor, Tonya Branch.
Also, a special thanks to all my teachers who have helped me all these years and prepared me for the future, and to my parents who have always loved, supported my adventures, and advised me through the years.

I hope we can all remember our years
here at East as being the best.
May all your dreams come true
"somewhere over the rainbow."

Lu Ann Talley

"Looks like we've made it."
Well,we finally have come to the end of our rainbow. What seemed like endless years of constant work is finally behind us. The years ahead of us may not be easy but at least we'll be prepared.

The yearbook has given to me many things;
it brought me friendships and worries.
The deadlines and pressures were enough to drive anyone crazy, but together we made it!
It took patience and understanding to work
it all out, but with the help of teachers
we reached our goals.

I'd like to thank the staff, and a wonderful co-editor. My love goes out to my parents, and sister for their patience and understanding.
I hope all your dreams come true and one day
I'll see you again
"somewhere over the rainbow."

Tonya Branch

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT!

East Eagles have plenty of spirit. From pep rallies to participation in the games, Eagles show their eagerness and enthusiasm. The East campus is never still and there is always something happening to keep us on our toes. Chalk one up for the Eagles!

Shine on, shine on 409.

Sanya Parson says, "These are my underoos."

Jonas Ward is a true blue (and white!) Eagle fan.

An enthusiastic "Eagle"

Fly like an Eagle!

If your team makes you proud then shout your name out loud "Eagles!"

"There she is . . ."

Candis Black is crowned the 1982 homecoming queen.

Candis Black and her escort are driven around the stadium in a 1980 camaro.

Mr. Wilhelm, Candis Black, Rina Swaim, and their escorts stand together after the events are over.

Mr. Wilhelm stands with Rina as she is handed her bouquet.

An ecstatic Candis smiles at the crowd from atop the Camaro.

The ROTC salutes Rina Swaim and Frank Martin.

Every Little Girl's Dream

Once in a lifetime, every young girl dreams of becoming some kind of queen. This dream comes true for the 1982 East Forsyth homecoming queen, Candis Black. Excitement mounts as the homecoming court awaits the special announcement. After the announcement that Rina Swaim is maid of honor, fingers are crossed and hopes raised until the final announcement — "Homecoming Queen 1982, Candis Black."

Candis Black, Landis James

Tammy Burke, Cecil Anthony

Allison Dearman, Neil Rhoades

Traci Grace, Vincent Brown

Senior Homecoming Court

What could be better than being chosen to be on the Senior homecoming court? At the beginning of October, approximately 15 girls are nominated by the senior football players and seven are lucky enough to be selected by the student body.

Gina Hooven, Jonas Ward

Alicia Rice, Darrell Boyles

Rina Swaim, Frank Martin

The Senior Court stands on the football field.

The Senior Court and sponsors watch Rina's response when sh is selected maid of honor.

Sandra Holder, Steve Robertson

Kim Krawiec, Brian Nelson

Kay Parson, Leroy Moore

Junior Homecoming Court

These proud girls chosen to represent the Junior Court still have time to dream and make plans for becoming homecoming queen for the Class of "83."

Jill Stockton, Tony Fleming

Karen Wofford, Darryl Moye

Karen Thompson, Gary Conners

The Junior Court strikes a pose.

The girls return to their seats after the queen is crowned.

Rina Swaim is chosen maid of honor.

The Junior Court waits in anticipation.

"Let's Dance . . ."

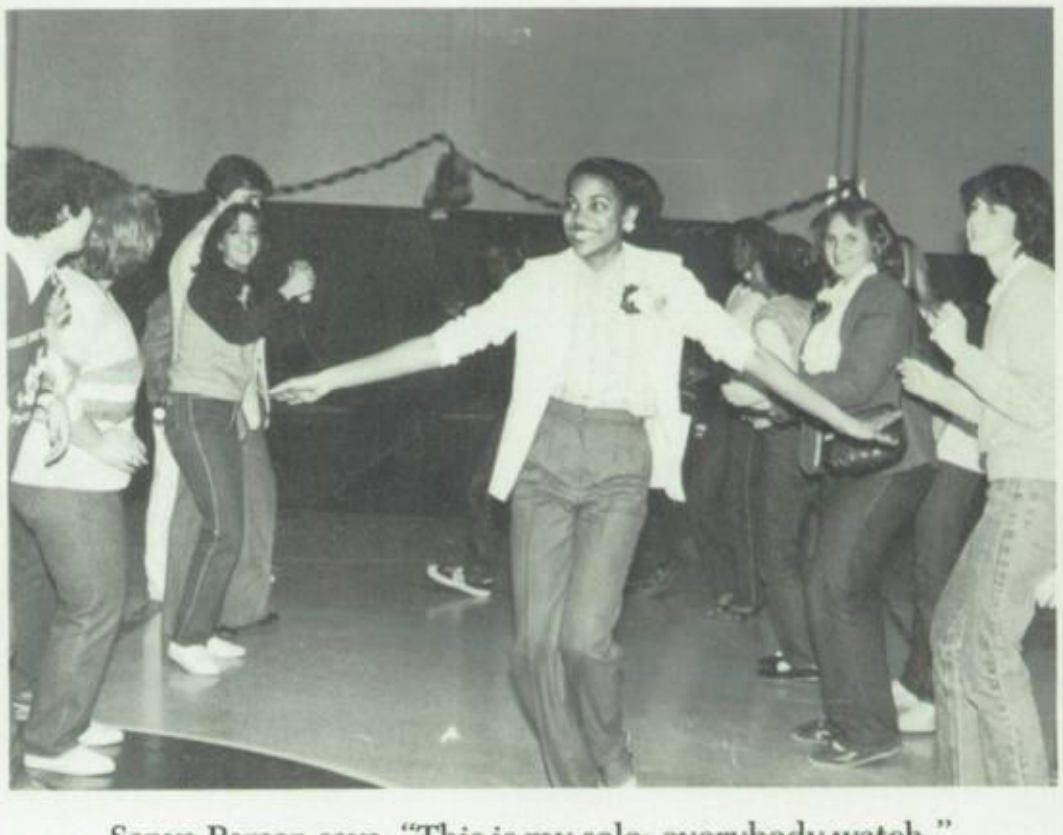
After an exciting game, the eager crowd gathers in the gym, ready to dance the night away. Rockin-n-rollin all night long seems to add the finishing touches to an already victorious homecoming game. Even the teachers get in the swing of things.

Okay . . . 1,2,3, dance



Sanya Parson says, "This is my solo; everybody watch."

Sonji Pass seems to be saying, "I'm so sick of crepe paper."

Janice Smith and her date have the floor to themselves for this one.

Liza Motsinger and Melissa Herndon await Santa Claus's arrival.

I got him now.

Jaycettes Start New Tradition At East

Jr. Jaycettes initiations cover a three-day period. On the first day the girls dress as dimes to commemorate the annual Mother's March of Dimes. On the second day, they dress as elves to show their participation in the Christmas Party for needy children. On the third day they are Mr. and Miss which stresses their involvement with the Little Mr. and Miss Pageant.

And the winner is . . .

Adding Excitement To Their Everyday Life

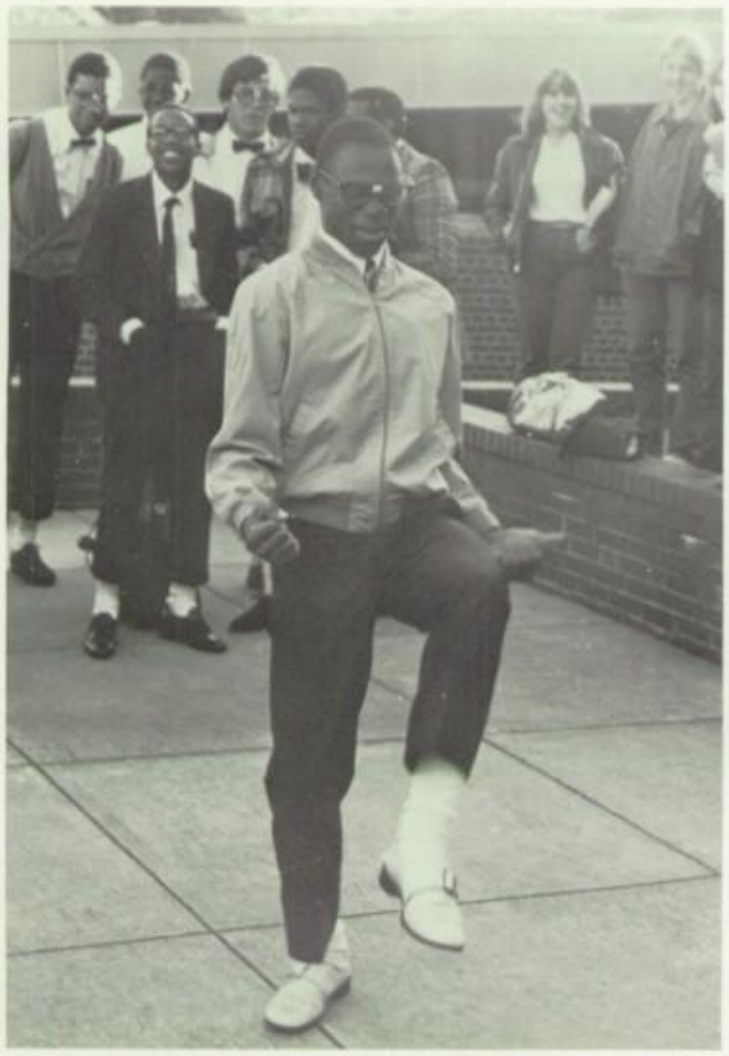
Anchor Club members are initiated in September. Special days are "Mickey Mouse Day," when the members dress like mice and sing the old favorite Mickey Mouse song and "New Wave Day" which requires the participants to dress like punk rockers and dance to the song, "Whip It." Congratulations to the girls who are brave enough to make it through the week.

"I never thought the Senior members would make us do this."

Tonya Branch clutches her "lil monkey" and seems to be saying, "So what do you sleep with?"

Is this what Valeria Rorie looks like every night?

"Think they could use us in Florida?"



Yes, nerds can jam.

Thomas Clarke is on his way to Hawaii.

Scott Saffer says, "Try it, turkey."

The Things Guys Will Do

Key Club initiations are held in October. On the first day the young men dress as Arab sheiks and have to bow down to a can of oil; the second day they are nerds and polish the shoes of the members of the Key Club; on the third day they are Hawaiians; and on the fourth day they are air raiders. The fifth day of initiations requires the upcoming members to dress in their very best. A lot of weird things are required to get into the Key Club.

Erin Gambrell seems to enjoy playing the role of Minnie Mouse.

Elves, where's Santa Claus?

Tracy Neal sleepily recites, "Now I lay me down to sleep."

Isn't Don Ho missing?

Different Strokes For Different Folks

Club initiations are held during the first quarter of school. Members have fun participating, and viewers enjoy watching; so everybody has a great time. Participants are required to dress in a lot of different outfits such as elf, Mickey Mouse, Hawaiian, and pajamas. New club members will be able to do the same thing to next year's Eagles.

Cinderella And The Prince Dance 'Til The Stroke Of Midnight

Lights, music, and atmosphere perfect an already wonderful evening at the junior-senior prom. Females take advantage of the opportunity to dress up like Cinderella and dance with their favorite prince. The guys, though they will never admit it, enjoy playing the suave, debonair Prince Charming.

"Throw your hands up and shout."

Here I am in my Sunday-go-to-meeting outfit.

"A friend sticketh closer than a brother."

Beth Atkins says, "Take it away Jamie!"

Edward Blackburn looks at his reflection in his tuba.

The band displays their musical talents at their Christmas concert.

"Twas Two Weeks Before Christmas"

"Twas the night before Christmas" and all through the auditorium not a creature is stirring except "Ahhhhh . . . " What was that? Excited screams come from the Madrigals as they run down the aisles. This is the famous entrance of the Madrigals as they perform their traditional song and reinactment of "Twas the night before Christmas," among the many exciting things presented at the Christmas concert. Also included in the program are the Caprice, Honors Chorus, and Band. The performance by all is outstanding.

"On the first day after Christmas . . . "

The Madrigals sleepily perform "Twas the night before Christmas."

Scott Swift says, "Hurry Beth, tell me the next line!"

Singing is something that comes natural to Angie Glenn, an East Forsyth junior. Angie has been given many awards for her exceptional talent. In November, she was one of the 150 people in North Carolina to be chosen a member of the North Carolina Honors Chorus. Over 2000 people auditioned for this honor.

The members of the chorus are deeply involved in the last song of their concert.

James Wilhelm

Mr. James Wilhelm, known personally by most if not all of the students of East Forsyth, has been at this school for five years. A few of his many duties here include the scheduling of students, the evaluations of teachers, and the representation of East at important board meetings. Aside from his busy schedule at school, Mr. Wilhelm finds time for tennis, camping, and gardening. One of Mr. Wilhelm's favorite quotes, which can be seen hanging outside of his office is:

"To avoid criticism: Do nothing, say nothing, be nothing."

Mr. Wilhelm is an important part of the overall atmosphere at East Forsyth. His pleasant attitude and willingness to mingle with the students help to enhance the beauty of his character and the campus. We hope Mr. Wilhelm will continue his good work long after we all are graduated.

Testing . . . grades . . . class rank . . . placement . . . education assistance . . . these are only a few things our guidance department does for the student body. To some she is just an English teacher but, to those who know her personally, she is a good friend and sometimes even a helpful advisor. Mrs. Peggy Cox can often be found helping students, not only at school but in her home as well. She helps those with problems concerning schoolwork and is always understanding and helpful to those with personal problems.

Mrs. Cox also enjoys her weekend work. Since April of 1981, she has been employed as an admissions counselor at Baptist Hospital. This job requires her to come into contact with many people, and she is always concerned with the welfare of all the patients whom she admits.

Mrs. Cox claims that she likes to be alone but, if you ask me, she hasn't the time.

As a native of South Carolina, Barbara Wilson graduated as the salutatorian and received a B.A. in math from Newberry College. For three summers during college she worked as a nurse aide. Her first year of teaching was in Orange, Va. Since then she has taught at East.

All her life she has ben involved in music — singing or playing an instrument. She has sung alto in church and college choirs, and in "The Messiah" in Winston-Salem for three years. She is presently choir director, assistant organist, and council woman at Providence Lutheran Church.

For relaxation she likes to hike, travel, and watch sports events, try new recipes, cross-stitch and sew.

Last spring she became engaged to Paul Wilson. They were married on August 8 and are happily living in a house they want to remodel.

She enjoys teaching math. Her goal is continually to encourage students to learn how to study, and to think for themselves.

Agnes Frye

J.V. Graham

Mrs. Agnes Frye teaches four English classes and is known to many students as the yearbook staff advisor.

Prior to her interest in teaching, she completed one and a half years in nursing. After that, she continued her education at Guilford College where she received her B.A. degree.

Outside of her school involvement, she is an active member of her church, where her husband is the minister; she helps out in a men's clothing store which her husband owns in Cooleemee; and she spends as much time as possible with her three children and her three grandchildren.

She enjoys hobbies such as needlework, reading, and playing the piano. Mrs. Frye is an involved person and teacher, and her feelings toward life are summed up in Shakespeare's writing: "To thine ownself be true; and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man."

You could hardly go through one period in Mrs. Ann Ragan's English class without being reminded about Conrad — her one year old son. A portion of her bulletin board is even devoted to her favorite baby pictures of him!

Motherhood is very important to Mrs. Ragan: she feels it is one of her biggest accomplishments. She is growing with her son and "rediscovering" her childhood.

Everything has more purpose and meaning to her now, and it has given her an insight for her work. She feels she is teaching and treating students differently because she can see her son in them and think how she would want him treated.

Being a mother and teacher does not take all of her time though; she still finds room for tennis, needlework, gardening, and of course, her husband, Joel.

Ed Schreiber

The year was 1964 when Ed Schreiber was graduated from Gray High School, which is now the School of the Arts. He entered the Air Force with great enthusiasm and was stationed for basic training in Texas. After Texas, he was transferred to Denver, Colorado and later to Charleston, South Carolina, becoming a weapon specialist. He concluded his military service after spending one year in Tuy-Hoa, Vietnam and attaining the rank of Sergeant. After his discharge, he headed for East Carolina to continue his education. He remained at East Carolina for three years, receiving a Bachelor of Science degree. He came to East High School, little knowing love awaited him. He married "the girl next door," Patricia Terrell, former teacher at East Forsyth. He lives in Quail Hollow, loves motorcycles, and is the advisor of the Photography Club.

Mr. Mike Buckner has a definite uniqueness about himself and his teaching. His main interests are centered around his caring for students.

He doesn't conduct his classes by teaching strictly out of books; Mr. Buckner tries to make the students enjoy the class. He likes to do surprising things to keep their interest.

"Learning about sacrifice, responsibility, self-discipline, dependability, and getting along with others is education," he says. To help them to cope with the "real world," Mr. Buckner sometimes gives his students unfair or hard tests. He tries to emphasize that life does not always offer fair situations.

Truly he is a caring teacher — only wanting the best for his students.

Angelene Jordan

Since Angelene Jordan was in the eleventh grade, she has had a crazy love for purple. She says it was a challenge, when she was younger, to find purple clothes. She would even go so far as to make her purple clothes, or to dye those that were not. Mrs. Jordan says that her students tease her but people close to her accept her little idiosyncrasy. She says that purple signifies royalty and is also supposed to be a passionate color. Now, almost every day when you look at Mrs. Jordan, it is very likely you will see her in some shade of purple.

Mr. Tom Fix has many hobbies, one of which is computer science. He bought a computer two years ago when a smart salesman let him have one for a weekend, knowing he would want to keep it. He teaches East students to use computers after school.

Another of his hobbies is white water canoeing. He says the waters are rated from one to seven, one being the easiest. Class four is for experts and the very first time he did any canoeing, which was on the Little Tennessee River, he went through number four waters. It did not bother him that, when he first started down the river, his canoe was dry and, when finished, the canoe was completely full.

In addition to computer science and canoeing, he also likes hunting and camping. He loves the outdoors and likes to wander in the woods. He says he got interested in camping when he was little and found he did not have to take a bath on these trips.

Mrs. Dana Landreth, in her second year at East, has already made so many friends with the students and teachers that it would take all day to count them all. She makes a lasting impression on everyone she meets. She tries to live by the standard of selflessness and so far she has done a very good job. Mrs. Landreth, besides teaching business law and management at East, likes to ski, do needlework, and swims twice a week. She is constantly giving of herself, proving this by the time she spends helping the J.V. Cheerleaders and teaching Sunday school. We wish her luck in the future and in her plans of having a family someday. It is obvious that she will be a good mother.

Marge,

There's not really any words to express just what you mean to me. You've always been there for me when I needed a shoulder to cry on, or just for someone to listen. That means alot to me. We've had our ups and downs over the years but we've always come out on top, we cared enough to work out whatever problems we had. You've got a very special place in my life and I truely believe that you'll always fill that place. I love you an awful lot, you're like the sister I never had! No matter what happens between us I could never hate you, I believe we can work everything out that comes our way, if not then neither one of us is really worth anything. (we are though). There's no words to express what I feel so I guess I'll go, and just hope that you'll know in your heart exactly what your friendship means to me! Thanks for everything! Let's go to the Beach!

Have a ga!

Seeing Double?

Sharonee and Sharona Cremedy

Do you ever wonder if you are seeing double? Your eyes aren't playing tricks on you, here at East we have seven sets of twins. Connie and Ronnie Chandler, Kim and Wendy Church, Sharona and Sharonee Cremedy, Patricia and Phyllis Hedgecock, Jan and Julie Lilley, Danny and David McKnight and Camino and Camus Nesbitt make up the roster of twins at East Forsyth Senior High School.

Students are inducted into the NHS.

The National Honor Society is a group of students who have exceptional academic ability. The members are selected on scholarship, leadership, character, and service. All members must maintain a "B" average. Juniors must rank in the top ten percent of their class and seniors must rank in the top fifteen percent of their class. The National Honor Society is active in many ways throughout the year: selling doughnuts, helping with Homework Hotline, serving as guides for visitors to the school, and making food baskets for needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas. The NHS also provides a scholarship for one of its members with the money they raise during the year.

Faculty advisors, Mrs. Everhart and Miss Griffin, discuss NHS events.

Scholarship, Character

Chris Speight, Beth Smith, Kelley Ford, Kim East, Ginger Smith.

From their ideals, they have chosen their leaders. They expect them to be loyal to the National Honor Society tradition, to its members, and to themselves at the same time. Because their leaders are chosen to represent the highest in themselves, they are given more work than power; more criticism than praise.

Of Pens And Parchments

Fifteen students have been nominated into the literary honor society — Quill and Scroll. These students have done outstanding work as members of the Aquila, Rough Edges, or Talon staffs. It might be said that they have found that a quote from Laurence Sterne (writing is "a different name for conversation") is true. Creativity is their goal and they strive to show true school spirit to other students with their work.

Darrell Boyles, Tonya Branch, Todd Day, Kim East, Staci Ferguson, Chris Fulk, Paula Hedgecock, Leslie Jones, Liza Motsinger, Beth Smith, Ginger Smith, Adrienne Stanford, LuAnn Talley, Beverly Taylor, Jan Waggoner

Sprechen sie Deutsch?

This year the German Honor Society consists of only two students, Pam Strickland and Lori Horton. They are selected for membership to this club on the basis of their accomplishments in the German language classes. To become a member of this club a student has to maintain a "B" average. The sponsor of this club is Mr. Jeff Allen.

Latin — The Language of Languages

Latin is truly the language of languages. Many of the words in other foreign languages, as well as in English, are derived from Latin. The students in the Latin Honor Society show academic excellence as well as a special interest in Latin. To qualify for the Latin Honor Society these students must possess an "A" average in Latin.

A Spectrum of the Language Rainbow

The Spanish Honor Society is composed of students who enjoy the language and cultures of Spanish. These students are selected each year on the basis of their accomplishments in Spanish. They must maintain at least a B average in all classes and must be enrolled in Spanish levels II, III, or IV.

Each year a formal induction is held at one of the area restaurants where the students receive a certificate of membership. The induction is conducted entirely in Spanish. The names of new members are sent to the National Spanish Honor Society to be recorded.

Students Extraordinaire

Rainbows are extraordinary and so are the Morehead Nominees of East Forsyth. They are versatile; they excell in scholarship and are active in school activities. These students must possess strong leadership qualities as well as high grade averages to qualify for the four-year scholarship to UNC-Chapel Hill.

"The aim of education should be to teach us rather how to think, than what to think — rather to improve our minds, so as to enable us to think for ourselves, than to load the memory with the thoughts of other men."

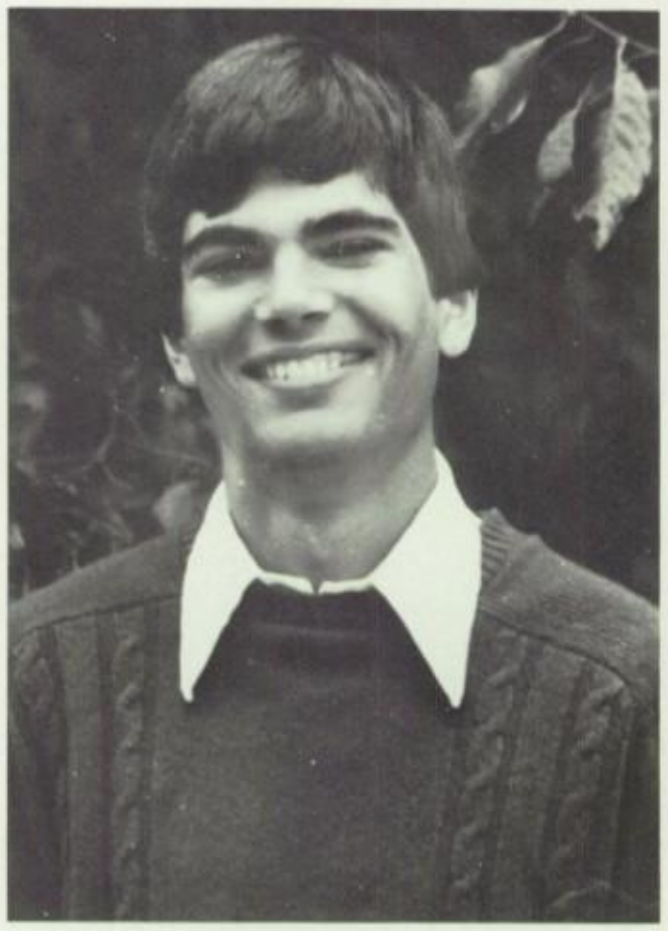
Peter Simms — European History

Kathie Davis — English Literature



Clint Hester — American History and Math AB

In a constant state of activity, tension, and homework, some stand out in stark contrast to their peers. As they see themselves, for the first time separate and apart, a strange feeling of loneliness encloses them. They see, in this moment of overwhelming clarity, that they must stand alone. These students take advanced placement courses.

Our Future Leaders

Tammy Crews

Last year Tammy Crews was East Forsyth's Girl's State representative. She attended UNC-G for a week in June. There she learned about North Carolina's government and political offices. She attended lectures by each of North Carolina's political officers. Tammy feels this was a fine opportunity to strengthen and gain more knowledge of governmental affairs. She says, "Girl's State was a valuable experience I'll never forget."

During the summer of 1981, five young men from East Forsyth were selected to attend a week of seminars at Wake Forest. They studied all aspects of state and local governments. By forming mock towns and governments, they got a view of "real-life" situations. They were nominated by teachers who felt they showed leadership potential. All nominees were asked to write essays on why they would like to attend. After the essays were reviewed, a board of teachers selected the students who would go.

Knowledge-loving Eagles

Mrs. Clark sponsors the High I.Q. team along with other faculty members, Mrs. Everhart and Mr. Willis.

"What walks on four feet in the morning, two feet in the afternoon, and three feet in the evening?" The answer: man. The Riddle of the Sphinx may be pretty puzzling to some people, but it isn't too tough for the High I.Q. team, our "Knowledge-loving Eagles." They represent East Forsyth and make their fellow Eagles proud. Every team member has a favorite subject and, with each member doing his best, the pieces fall into place, making High I.Q. good as a whole. The team members are: Emmanuel Alexander, Colin Hampton, Clint Hester, John Thompson, and David Williams, with Phil Smith as alternate.

Colin Hampton and Davette Wagner look on as Tammy Crews writes the quadratic formula, one with which algebra students are oh, so familiar!

Reaching for the Top

One must be talented in some area to be chosen to attend Governor's School at Salem College during summer vacation. Tammy Burke is one of those gifted people. When asked how she feels about Governor's School, she replied, "At first I didn't enjoy it because I didn't know anybody, but later on I made friends and things got better." Tammy was chosen to go to Governor's School in dance. She has studied dance since the age of five and is talented in many areas of dance including tap, ballet, jazz, and modern.

Excellence Is Rewarded

Allison Dearman and Clint Hester, the DAR award winners.

The Daughters of the American Revolution name two students as "good citizens" each year. Allison Dearman and Clint Hester represent the Winston-Salem and Kernersville chapters. Leadership, scholarship, and character are the three main characteristics on which one is judged to receive this honor.

The "I Dare You" award, given by the American Youth Foundation, is eager to recognize character and leadership qualities in young people and to encourage and challenge them to lead creative, purposeful lives. It is for the student who exhibits potential for effective future leadership.

Merry Priddy and Emmanuel Alexander, the "I Dare You" award winners.

Hold fast to dreams,
For if dreams die,
Life is like a broken-winged bird
That cannot fly.

"Reserved"

Marzie, I love being in fourth period with you and also being with you out of school. You are a very special person in my life and I hope it will remain that way. I love you very dearly and enjoy having you around. There is, which I know, a future ahead of us. We just have to keep pressing on. We are going to have a lot of good times ahead. I love you more every day.

Planning Memories

Members of the Junior Dean's Council are chosen by their peers to represent the viewpoints of the entire junior class. One of their main projects of the year is to plan the junior-senior prom. They work hard to make it the best it can be. They are a valuable asset to East Forsyth.

Memories Are Forever

Everyone talked of this day
for months in the past,
It's finally here
that memorable day at last.
She went shopping
for a beautiful dress,
He washed the car
so she'd be impressed.
They arrived at the prom
looking their best,
They're so nervous and excited
they can't stop to rest.
Everythings there: corsages,
tuxedos, long formal gowns,
Slow dancing, soft lights,
and new-wave sounds.
Having a great time
with all their friends,
Hoping the fun and excitement
never ends.
We've shared many memories through the year,
The good and bad,
the laughter and tears.
The memory is there
never to be erased,
Nothing can ever take its place.

Just a bunch of "SUPER FREAKS"

"We're everything a woman wants."

Standing in the courtyard and hearing the familiar "Can you believe what these people are doing just to be in a club?" is sure to let you know that initiations of the Anchor and Key Clubs have arrived. For some it is embarrassment, for others enjoyment, but everyone has a lot of laughs and fun while watching these guys and gals become official members of their respective clubs.

"Come give us a kiss."

"Mickey Mouse has got to be around here somewhere."

"Do we really have to stay like this all day?"

Preparing for the future

The College Club is an organization designed to enlighten and enrich college-bound students. There are thirty active members, both juniors and seniors, who visit various colleges of their choice. This helps to prepare them for future goals.
The College Club participates in the Post-Secondary Opportunity Session held at Hanes Mall.

We're Here to Help

The Junior Civitans Club is devoted to helping others with many exciting projects, including selling homecoming corsages, participating in a walk-a-thon for Crisis Control, participating with an area social worker in providing clients with needy items such as food, clothing, and other needy articles, and attending Kernersville Civitan meetings and aiding members with local projects. Their service is greatly appreciated within the community.

United We Stand

The East Forsyth Jr. Jaycettes are a group of aspiring young women. They uphold the ideals of the Kernersville Jaycettes and Jaycees. Throughout the year, they do many service projects for the school and the community, including: message masks for Halloween, painted faces for Halloween at McDonalds, the Jr. Miss Pageant, and a Christmas party for Sr. Citizens. They also go door-to-door collecting for "March of Dimes," and participate in other projects throughout the year.

Checkmate! No, this is not a new brand of designer jeans. It is a term used by the members of the Chess Club. This, along with other foreign terms, is foreign to many of us but it's all part of the game. Not only are these students having fun with "the battle of the wits," but they are learning to think fast and to think ahead, two ingredients that go into building character of men and women.

Pumping Iron

Members of the weightlifting club practice three times a week in their preparation for next year. These athletes are striving to improve their strength, skill, and overall physical appearance.

Sally Nitkin shows her spirit at a pep rally.

Spirit Raisers

The 18 members of the East Forsyth Pep Club cheer our teams on through thick and thin. The spirit and enthusiasm that these members produce is well worth the effort. Some of their activities include bake sales, buying shirts for each member, framing photos of the school to be placed in the office, and buying a new costume for our fine feathered friend, Eagle, to strut around in during pep rallies and games.

Marching On

The East Forsyth Reserve Officer Training Corps is divided into four major groups: Rifle-Team, Drill Team, Rangers, and Color Guards. The students in ROTC are preparing for possible careers in the military. They learn basic military skills such as military courtesies, marching in formation, and learning how to use a rifle. On weekends they go splunking, which is cave exploring. They also practice map reading. Every Thursday they wear their uniforms and have inspection that morning. With the training of today, our troops will be ready for tomorrow.

BLOOD SWEAT and TEARS

Dear Diary,
To recount the events and happenings of the past 180 days brings mixed emotions. When we look through the pages of Aquila 1982, our minds return to those first few days of speculation. It all began when five students of the Aquila staff attended "The Great Annual Shootout" at the Hyatt House in August 1981. There we were filled with fresh ideas and great expectations for the coming year. We carried those ideas with us into the journalism classroom the very first day of school, and papers and ideas began to fly. There were deadlines to meet, hours spent after school, burning of the midnight oil at home, and frustrations in abundance. Sometimes our patience wore thin and tempers flared, but, somehow, it all fell into place. Working closely together has given us something more valuable than a yearbook. Sharing ideas, plans, and thoughts has formed a bond of friendship among us and given us friends and memories that will forever remain in our hearts. On this, the 20th anniversary of East Forsyth Senior High School, we sincerely hope this yearbook will be a special and appropriate symbol of our dedication to the school. Though we had our doubts through the year, we have decided the Blood, Sweat, and Tears were worth it.

So hard to be an Eagle

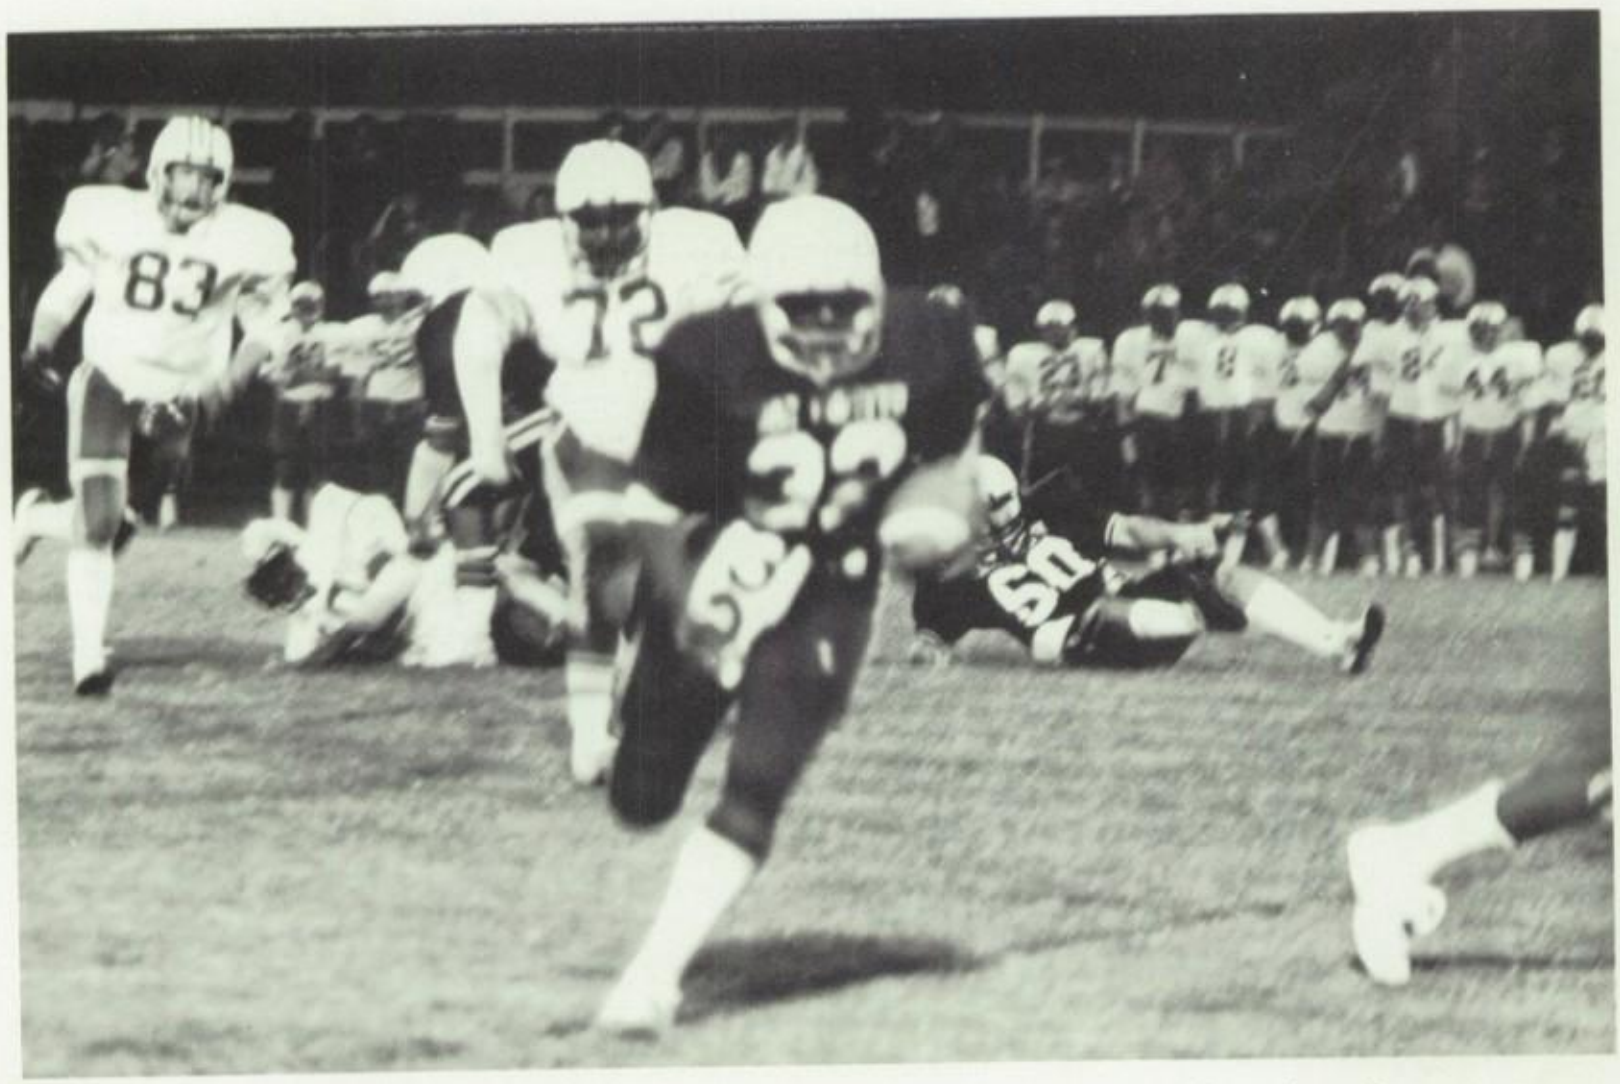
Oh! The positions Eagles get themselves into!

The 1981-82 football season gets off to a slow start, but through it all, the motto remains, "United We Stand, Divided We Fall."

The supportive energy that is given off by the fans keeps the players exhilarated. The coaches, unworried, have confidence that the Eagles will burst forth with a winning force, devastating everything in their path.

And it happens. During the latter part of the season East begins its climb upward on the football ladder of success by tying Parkland 3-3. Next we slaughter High Point Central with a score of 28-3. There is win after win with East defeating Smith, Page, Reynolds, and North Forsyth. From there we go to the conference where we are stopped by West Charlotte with a score of 24-8. We end the season with a record of 5-3-2. Coach Ellender says that the coaches are very proud of the team. He goes on to say that the team has worked hard, and they, in other words, deserve what they worked for.



Leaving the West players behind, Reggie White strides toward East's goal.

We've done it all!

Our third year with soccer begins with very inexperienced players. Although there are many mental mistakes made, our determined Eagles improve game by game.

We have eight returning players, five of whom are seniors. They are: Neal Rhodes, Steve Robertson, Richard Leslie, Gene Ambrose, and Charles Willard. The other three returning players are juniors: Scott Saffer, Brian Nelson, and Jim Austin. Best-all-around player is a newcomer, Pat Irby. We end the season with a record of 5-9-1. They've done it all!

All eyes upward

Co-captain, Richard Leslie

Co-captain, Neal Rhoades

Michael "Buck" Buckner, the coach, says, "These guys are probably the best I've had here at East." He also points out that the games we lost were all close games. Buck went on to say that our players have learned the valuable lessons of a senior high school varsity sport. Self-discipline, responsibility, self-sacrifice, and dedication are values that our young men will carry with them for a life time. "These qualities," he went on to say, "are the composition of a winner; and all of these guys are winners."

. . . and that is the bare facts.

That's using your head!

I'm going to get you, you little devil!

The big and small of it.

It's a l-o-n-g mile

On your mark, get set, go! (Bang) And they're off! Gilbert Rucker takes the lead with large, smooth strides while following behind him at a slower pace is Butch Smith. Then comes Miguel Langford, Darryl Dearman, and Marvin Watkins. This is the typical scene for this year's cross country team. Keeping a comfortable stride, we manage to place second in the Central Piedmont Conference and third in the Winston-Salem Sectional. Among those being recognized for outstanding performance is Gilbert Rucker, who advances to the State meet in Charlotte and finishes 40 out of 85 participants. Butch Smith has an outstanding, undefeated regular season and is City-County champion, as well as Conference Champion. Mr. Richard Gizinski, the coach, feels that this is possibly the best cross country season in the school's 20-year history with a 7-1 overall record, 4-1 conference record, second place in the conference, and third in the sectionals. Butch Smith and Gilbert Rucker place second on All-Forsyth County Cross Country Team. Miguel Langford, Butch Smith, and Gilbert Rucker place third on the All-Conference team. They definitely put their best foot forward!

Spike it back over

As the ball is spiked, the referee yells, "Point!" The ball is put into play. Tension is in the air. The time has come. The other team misses, and once again the Eagles are victorious. The girls practice hard, their strategy is good, and they are the best throughout the 1981-82 season. Among the outstanding players are Pam Benton, Ginger Groce, and Carol Williams. All three girls are selected to the All-Conference team. Carol Williams shares Player-of-the-Year honors with a player from Greensboro Smith. We end the season with an overall record of 13-2. Our conference record is 11-1. We salute you, Eagles.

Game . . . set . . . match!

The girls tennis team starts the season off with a record of 4-0. The girls struggle to stay on top and do a pretty good job by defeating the number one team, Greensboro Page. This is the first time that East has ever beaten Page. Mrs. Millie Pryce, the coach, states that we had eight 9-0 victories, which is a record-breaker here at East. A special congratulations goes to Lisa Barrier for her extraordinary efforts throughout the season.

Stepping to the beat

Proudly representing East Forsyth, the marching band struts their stuff during half-time. Their prominent uniforms, along with their music, help create a spirited audience.

As the first note pierces the nippy, fall air, a warm atmosphere evolves among the supporting Eagles. Although the music is silenced, the melodies linger on.

Coming forth with flare

Starting off the half-time activities, we have the Flag Corps. This new organization was formed during the summer season. They are made up of one captain and five additional members.
By turning the flags in a sequence of movements corresponding with the beat, they portray an array of beauty.
Having the Flag Corps perform for us is a new and arousing experience for East.

Shout your name out loud . . . Eagles!

The varsity cheerleaders of the 1981-82 Eagles squad are the best, and now we have the evidence to prove it to everyone.

During the summer, our cheerleaders participated in the 1981-82 Golden Eagle Cheerleader Clinic and brought home superior standings. The competition was rough, but the Eagles pulled through and rose to victory. Our girls proudly brought home four winning ribbons, a Golden Eagle Cheerleader Clinics Certificate, a "Varsity Champions" banner, a Golden Eagle Spirit megaphone, and the prized "Golden Eagle Varsity" winner trophy.

Along with these material praises, the girls brought home these verbal praises — "Super spirit," "Very easy to follow," and something all Eagles exclaim . . . "Good job! Stay on top!"

It takes team power!

Go! Go! Get 'um! Get 'um!

The 1981-82 squad consists of a group of girls eager to display their school spirit and help in getting participation from the students. They work together to form a chorus of cheers and chants for the support of our teams. Although J.V. cheerleaders do not cheer for all of the football games, they do cheer at pep rallies and at the girls basketball games. A great degree of school spirit is evident in our J.V. cheerleaders.

Eagles stand tall.

Robin Reid, Co-captain

East Forsyth's drill team, the Eaglettes, consists of twenty-eight young ladies. They show their school spirit through the hard work and effort they put toward making all of their performances look professional. The Eaglettes add a touch of elegance to half-time. Their synchronized movements and precision kicks arouse the enthusiasm of the crowd. The Eaglettes help to make East Forsyth's half-time great.

Take it to the top

The Eagles get off to a flying start this season with a 6-0 record. Displaying a variety of synchronized plays and fast moves, the players excite the crowd.

Their hard work and determination help to lift the Eagles high above their competitors. Arriving early in the morning for practice and staying late in the afternoons help to strengthen and improve the skill and the overall performance of the team.

The enthusiasm and loyalty of the fans support the Eagles in their climb to the top!

Jump up Mighty Eagles

The favorite chant, "Jump up, Mighty Eagles, Jump up!" is heard throughout the gym as tension builds and the referee tosses the ball high in the air. This is typical of what can be observed at our Lady Eagles' basketball game.

Although we haven't experienced an undefeated year, our girls have put forth a lot of effort in preparing for each game. The dedication, determination, and effort of each member cannot go unrecognized.

Ginger Groce shoots a foul shot.

Taking it to the hoop!

Making that move!

A little "controversy"

Take down

With muscles flexing and sweat forming on the brow of the wrestler, he agonizingly pins the opponent to the floor for the count. The count is made, and the winner is inevitably an Eagle. This scene is reinacted again and again with each win the Eagles pull out.

Through hard work and determination, the wrestlers have obtained a 5-1 record as of February 1. The team is also to be commended for their excellent showings by placing 1st in the Parkland Christmas Tournament and 2nd in the Northwest Guilford Holiday Tournament.

Coach Ellender comments: "The team has been very competitive this season because of the several outstanding seniors."

Eagle, M. Marsh, holds his hand high in victory.

A struggle until the end

Keith Stewart displays that look of victory again.

Frank Martin fights to stay on top.

In the end, an Eagle always wins.

An "Eagle" is the best you can do

The golf team had a hectic time getting together this year, but the results proved pleasing. Many team members eagerly anticipated the beginning of the golf season. Controlling the flying tempers in front of Coach Hayes, after making a bad shot, was difficult, but everyone survived. Most people just don't realize how much concentration or self-control golf involves. Just ask an East golfer; he'll tell you!

To Denise Irby, soccer is serious business.

Soccer makes "kicking the habit" fun

There is a sense of expectation in the air as the ball glides down the field, guided only by the feet of the players. As the Eagles pass the ball back and forth, their skill and accuracy help to insure a goal. As the ball is kicked into the net for the winning point and the thrill of victory is experienced by the Eagles, they leave the field, knowing that they put their best foot forward.

Looking back in Sports . . .

Excelling in all aspects of the sports field, the 1981-82 Eagles show a sense of victory that cannot be penetrated. With our goals set high, we constantly are striving to do and be the very best. Though the hours are long and the work is tedious, the Eagles through persistent dedication fight the hard battle and prove their worth. We also recognize the dedication and support of the coaching staff and other helpers.

This sports year we have had the opportunity to experience the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat, and through it all we have accomplished our hopes and strengthened our dreams in keeping a lasting memory of our 1981-82 Eagle teams.

The Eagles' who's who.

The spotlight is on you!

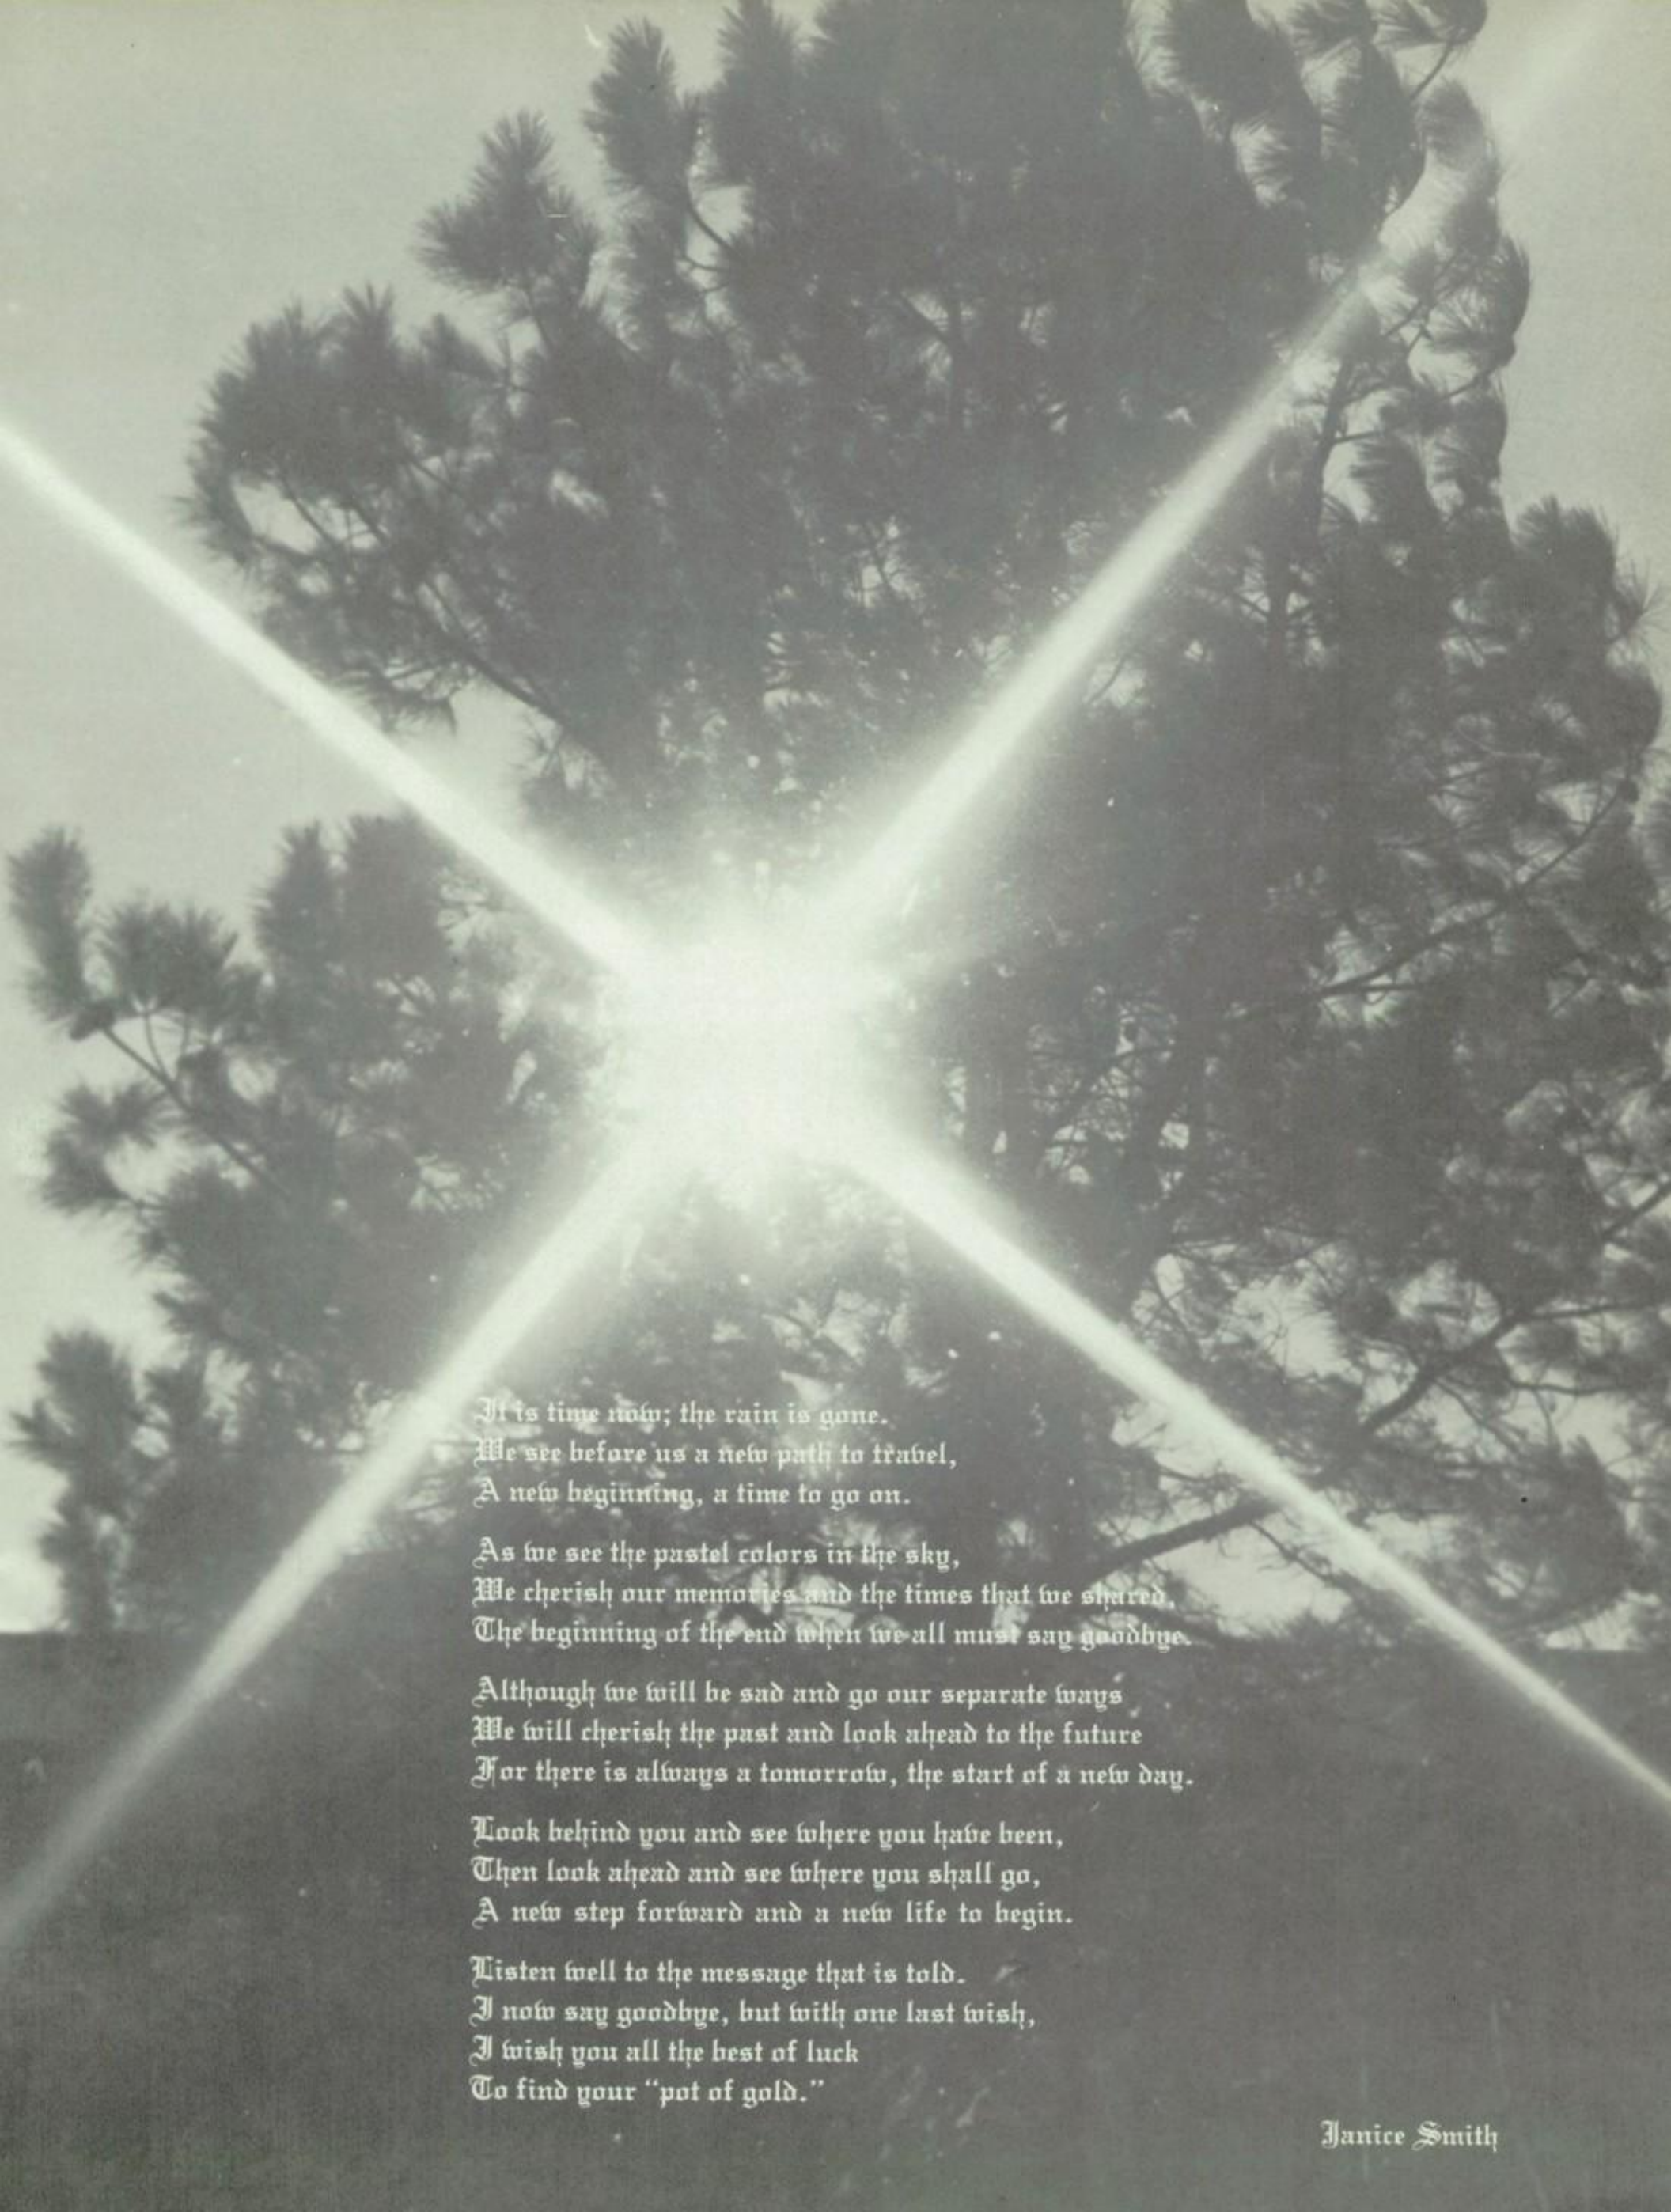
Although sports are vitally important for East Forsyth Eagles, not many students know who is behind the sports scene. Well let's shed some light on the situation and find out. It's Mr. Jack Musten. The same Mr. Musten who was awarded teacher of the year last year, who has been working here at East Forsyth for 21 years, and the same Mr. Musten who has coached every kind of team in our sports program.

That's right — he's the Athletic Director who has the ball rolling. "Sports is a part of my life, and as long as I've been at East, I've coached them all," explained Mr. Musten. So far this year our overall winning record in all our sports-related activities has been outstanding.

Congratulations, Mr. Musten! the spotlight is on you!



It is time now; the rain is gone.
We see before us a new path to travel,
A new beginning, a time to go on.

As we see the pastel colors in the sky,
We cherish our memories and the times that we shared,
The beginning of the end when we all must say goodbye.

Although we will be sad and go our separate ways
We will cherish the past and look ahead to the future
For there is always a tomorrow, the start of a new day.

Look behind you and see where you have been,
Then look ahead and see where you shall go,
A new step forward and a new life to begin.

Listen well to the message that is told.
I now say goodbye, but with one last wish,
I wish you all the best of luck
To find your "pot of gold."

Janice Smith

The Day We All Wait For

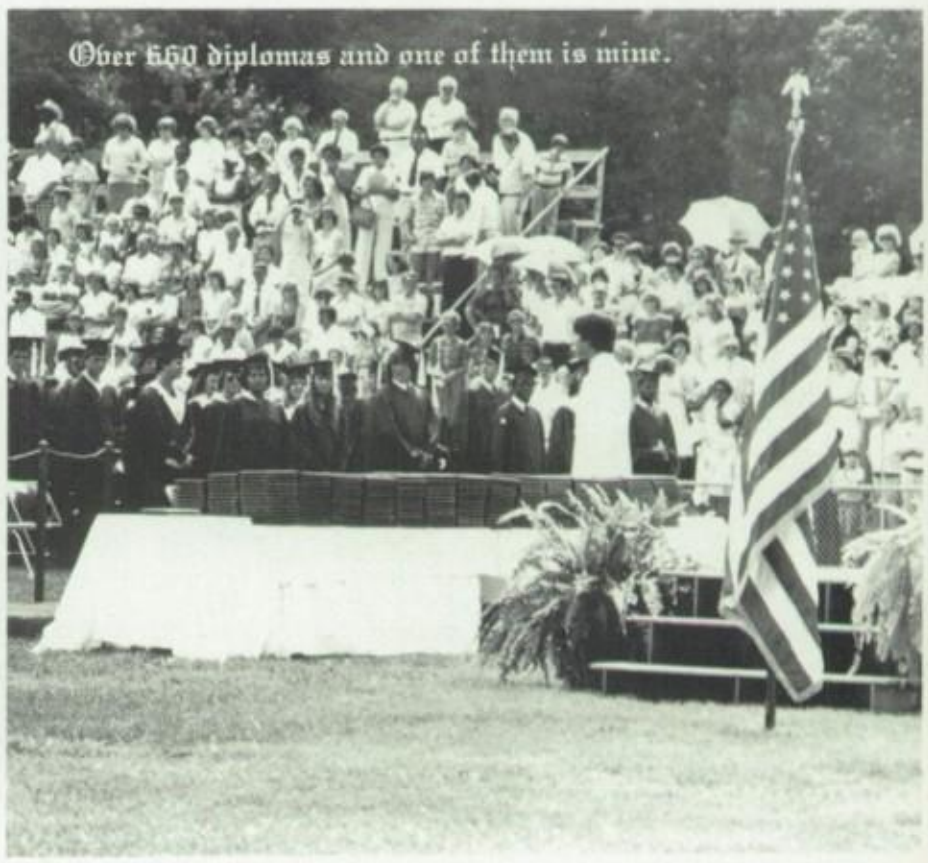
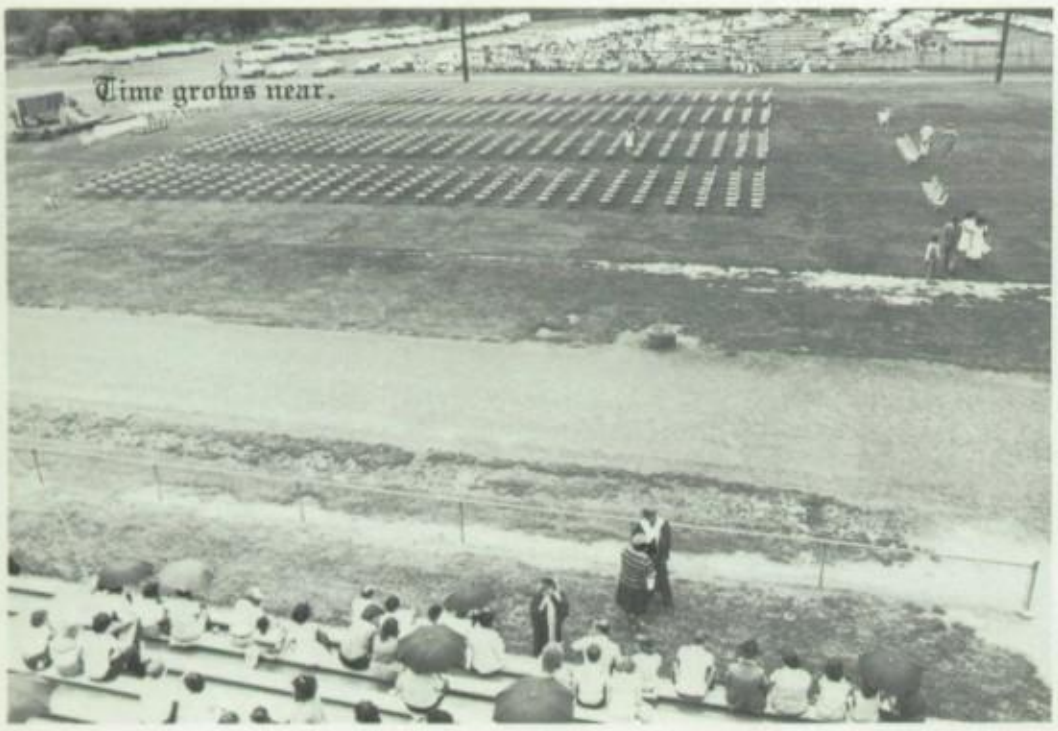
Today is the day! Twelve long, and sometimes hard, years are behind me. In one day it will be all over. There's mass confusion in the courtyard. People are talking about the beach and the weather, talking about anything but goodbye. We all place on our caps and gowns; we stand prim and proper as we await the opening notes of "Pomp and Circumstance." The music begins and the majestic parade makes its way to the field. After what seems like hours, my name is called and I grow weak as I walk across the platform. I'm still in shock when we're asked to stand. Together we sing the "Alma Mater." I have tears in my eyes and a lump in my throat as we sing the final words, "Thoughts East High of you." It's over, I've finally done it; but why am I sad, why am I happy? This is one day I'll never forget.

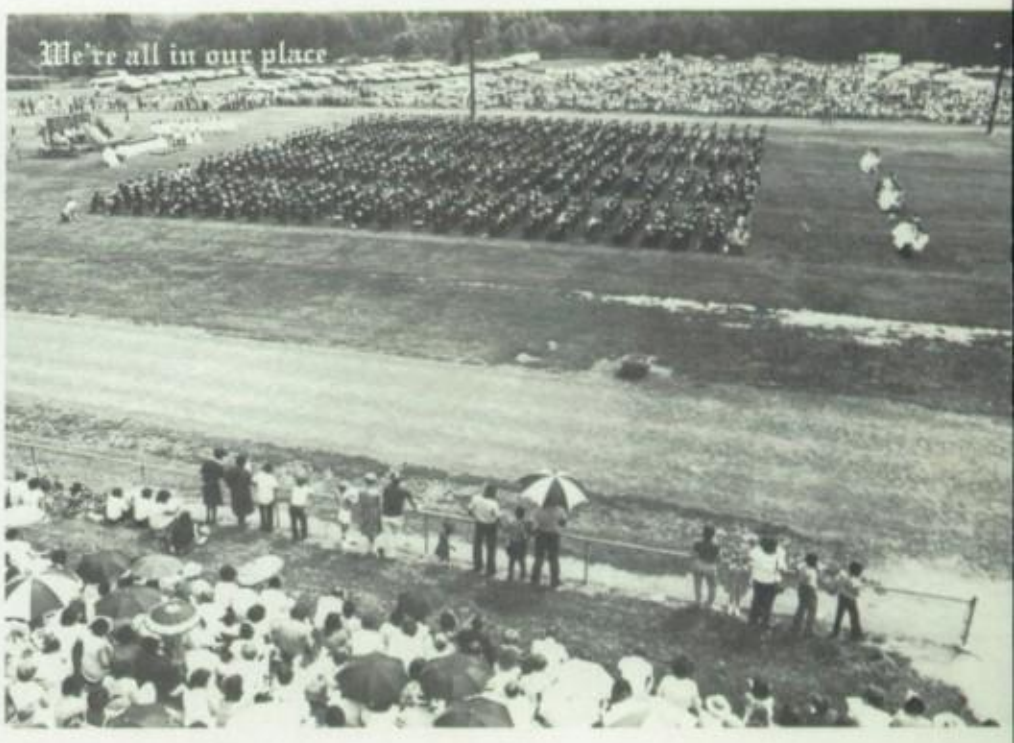
"Proudly now we hail thee, Eagles brave and fair."



Over 550 diplomas and one of them is mine.



Time grows near.



We're all in our place

Mr. Wilhelm leads the graduates to the final step.

I wish they'd get this show on the road.

People will sit anywhere to see graduation.

Thanks to the Following

This year has been one that we'll all remember, but to us it has been a little bit more. It took time and patience to create a yearbook we are proud of, and we thank God for giving it to us. We thank the school for its support. We have a special thanks to give to Mr. Schreiber and Mrs. Frye, who have become a special part of our daily lives. We couldn't have done it without our close friends and Sections Editors — Beth Smith, Paula Hedgecock, Kim East, Dawn Talley, Beverly Taylor, Sanya Parson, and Adrienne Stanford. A great staff who had a combination of spirit, talent, and support made it all worthwhile. J.B. Edwards lent to us his wisdom and creativity to produce a yearbook beyond compare. Tony Idol, with patience and talent, created the ultimate yearbook cover. But most of all we want to thank our parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Talley and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Branch, for their love and time.
